DESCRIPTION

Rooms, or cupboards storing dangerous items, or doors leading to stairways, can be dangerous for those whose dementia has progressed. It can be useful to disguise a door, making access less likely. Care should be taken to use images which do not cause confusion.

For more information visit <https://dementia.com.au/downloads/DSA%20Murals%20Position%20Paper.pdf>

Alternatively, door murals can be used to help a person living with dementia identify their own room/space.
