DESCRIPTION

This Doro Universal remote control works on all major brands of TV, DVD's and home stereos.

This remote is easy to set up as it copies settings from your existing remote controls for the relevant piece of equipment.

The device has seven large buttons. It is possible to learn commands to multiple remote controls.

For example, the channel up and down for a set top box and volume up and down for the TV.

The remote can be reset continuously and re-programmed. There is no set amount of times this can be done as it has a digital memory for code/function.

It includes three AAA batteries.
