

COLOUR CONTRAST & DINNER SETS

6.01

DESCRIPTION

The use of colour contrast is vitally important in creating an enabling environment.

Consider a red tray or blue mat/table cloth under a white dinner plate to define the persons place setting.

APPLICATION

Many people living with dementia have difficulty with visual perception. This makes it very difficult to see objects that are similar in colour.

Crockery with a bright plain coloured rim that contrasts with the background can make dining much easier.
